DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

4. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

5. Claims 1-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Morita et al., US 2003/0044603 A1 (Morita).

Morita discloses carbon fiber having a multi-layer structure comprising an inner layer and an outer layer with a hollow structure, the outer layer having a carbon structure different from the carbon structure of the inner part, per claims 1 and 9, and partially closed, per claim 2. Herringbone structures are known within the hollow spaces in VGCF. See entire document, and for example abstract and [0023]. In addition, Morita discloses that the peripheral portion of the fiber contains a concentric ring carbon structure, per claims 3-4, and an outer diameter within the instant claimed range as set forth in claim 6. Regarding the fiber length, this property is drawn to the size of the fiber, wherein changes in size ordinarily are not a matter of invention. Moreover, it is the examiner's position that the disclosed outer diameter and aspect ratio would result in a fiber length within the instant claimed range, in the absence of factual evidence to the contrary. See [0017], [0019], and [0046]. Regarding claims 5, 7-8, the carbon fiber of Morita is substantially the same as that contemplated by applicants. Accordingly, the examiner has reason to believe that these properties are the same as well, in the absence of factual evidence to the contrary. Applicants are invited to provide such evidence. Regarding claim 10, Morita discloses a mixture comprising the carbon fiber in the requisite amounts. See [0051], [0072]. Regarding claims 11-14, Morita discloses contacting a carbon source and a catalyst source with a sulfur source, and then further heating in a non-oxidative atmosphere within the requisite temperature requirements set forth in claims 15-18. See [0056]-[0062].

Therefore, the teachings of Morita would have rendered obvious the invention as claimed in present claims 1-18.

No claims are allowed.
